SEER Rockdust Endorsement & Invitation

I first became aware of SEER Rockdust when I read Moira Thomson's 4 page article in the Summer 2008 "Star and Furrow" magazine that I receive as a Member of the Biodynamic Agricultural Association. It seemed to make sense so I ordered a full pallet and I am now a total convert.

Our home garden is up in the wilds of Cumbria. Just like the SEER Centre, it is a difficult environment for gardening. Since using SEER Rockdust however everything has improved and I have witnessed the benefits listed on the SEER Rockdust bags all starting to happen. Friends and visitors are all amazed so I tell them the solution is very simple "If you want to grow stronger, bigger, more pest resistant plants, with brighter flowers and greener leaves, and everything you want to eat to taste a whole lot better, then start using SEER Rockdust!"

I visited the SEER Centre and have since had Moira present as part of my 2009 and 2010 Community Action Nepal lectures. The Nepalese enjoy mineral rich soils which are fed by glacial streams just like the Hunza people described in Graham Harvey's book, "We Want Real Food". So, for 2012, if you look on our website, www.canepal.org.uk Moira and Cammi are welcome to display SEER Rockdust at any of our events and I will gladly have them present to audiences wherever possible.

For all the reasons Moira and Cammi explain, from carbon sequestration, to reduction in dependency on synthetic fertilisers, to more nutritious healthier plants, I think it is high time the mineral rich SEER Rockdust was available throughout the UK and beyond, and using locally sourced SEER endorsed dust wherever possible.
